ATS airline travel cases are designed around the airline regulations for carry on and checked luggage. Currently most airlines have a 45 inch(l+w+h) limit for carry on luggage and a 62 limit for checked baggage. The cases offered in this section are optimized for size and weight to provide the maximum space for your gear while minimizing or eliminating oversize/overweight charges.

ATS shipping cases are built tough to take the kind of punishment that automatic handling and common carriers can inflict and more important they're engineered to protect your valuable equipment trip after trip, year after year. We offer both molded shipping cases and custom shipping cases to provide a wide choice range in size, strength, weight, economy and styling to suit many different applications.

ATA Cases Characteristics
